MINE CLEARANCE PROGRAMMES:

New Zealand announced a financial contribution of NZ$1.1 million for clearance activities in Laos on 9 November 2010. The funding will be used to clear unexploded ordnance in the Xieng Khuang province where New Zealand has also supported sustainable tourism development, including cluster munitions clearance, at one of the most popular tourist destinations in Laos, the Plain of Jars.

New Zealand provides NZ$1 million to UNMAS as support for the organisations work in removing and destroying mines and explosive remnants of war.

NZAID prioritises funding to a number of UN agencies including UNICEF, UNDP, UNHCR, the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, the Office of the High Commissioner of Human Rights, and the World Food Programme. Each of these agencies undertakes unexploded ordnance clearance activities as part of their work.

NZAID contributed NZ$200,000 in 2008 to UNDP for the UNDP/Egyptian Government mine and unexploded ordnance clearance action programme. This project was on-going into 2010.

REHABILITATION PROGRAMMES:

New Zealand provides NZ$2.5 million per year in untagged core funding to support the work of ICRC. This funding contributes, in part, toward physical rehabilitation programmes.
