Information to the armed forces, including the extent to which the CCW and its Protocols are part of military manuals and the training curriculum of its armed forces:

The content and the provisions of CCW Convention and its Protocols have been disseminated periodically and in a targeted way to the Armed Forces. In the Army, the protocol has been distributed to the level of regiment/battalion through an informative Note, and by including this information in training programmes. All military units operating on the ground - and especially out of area - have been duly instructed.

Information to the civilian population, including information on any programs, courses or documentation to disseminate the CCW to non-military audiences:

A National Committee for Mine Action was informally established in February 1999 in order to bring together all interested actors (both in the governmental and the non governmental side) and promote their close co-operation in terms of guiding principles and operative standards. The National Committee elaborated general guidelines for Italian mine-action in the context of Italian international co-operation. The last meeting of the committee took place on December 19, 2008.

NGOs and civil society representatives are regularly involved in the decisional process aimed at defining projects to be financed through the "Fund for Humanitarian Demining", established by Law 58/2001. Last coordination meeting took place on August 4, 2009. According to the same Law, a specific report describing activities financed through the Fund is presented to the Italian Parliament once a year.

Regular information on the Italian policy in the field of mine action is provided in written form to the parliament every six months, according to law no. 374/1997 (which introduced the total ban on anti-personnel landmines).
